

PD Health @ Home

Taking Charge: Strategies for Meaningful Healthcare Visits

Wednesday, May 21, 2025
1:00 pm to 2:15 pm EST

Speakers:

Muhammad Nashatizadeh, MD
Director, Inpatient Movement Disorders
The University of Kansas Health System

Taylor Rush, PhD
Health Psychologist, Director of Behavioral Services and Interdisciplinary Programs, Center for Neurological Restoration, Cleveland Clinic

Kathleen Blake, MD, MPH
Vice Chair, People with Parkinson's Advisory Council

Learn more and register at:
www.parkinson.org/PDHealth

Or scan the QR code

Navigating Parkinson's disease (PD) requires an active and informed approach to healthcare. This program will encourage individuals living with PD to take charge of their care by providing strategies for effective communication and self-advocacy before, during and after healthcare visits.

Participants will learn how to make the most of each appointment by prioritizing their needs and preparing questions and concerns in advance. Additionally, attendees will gain access to valuable tools and resources from the Parkinson's Foundation to support their journey.